Fiberglass Plywood Trailer Solutions

Description:

Composite Box fiberglass plywood trailer solutions deliver high-strength, lightweight composite panels with FRP or CFRT facings bonded to durable plywood cores. Supporting CKD/SKD kits for cost-effective shipping and local assembly, these panels offer superior impact resistance, corrosion protection, slip-resistant flooring, and easy maintenance. Ideal for trailer side, roof, floor, and door applications across small to heavy-duty trailers.

Features:

- Fiberglass-reinforced plastic (FRP) or CFRT facing on plywood core.
- Exceptional impact, corrosion, and moisture resistance throughout.
- Lightweight design reduces trailer self-weight significantly.
- Anti-slip surface treatments available for safe flooring.
- Modular CKD/SKD kits enable fast, local assembly.

Advantages:

- Achieves superior strength-to-weight ratio, lowering overall trailer weight to improve fuel efficiency, increase payload, and enhance towing performance.
- Provides excellent durability and corrosion resistance in harsh environments, extending service life while minimizing maintenance and repair costs.
- Enables rapid, cost-effective local assembly through knockdown kits, reducing international shipping expenses and simplifying on-site construction.
- Offers extensive customization including panel thickness (12 – 25mm), dimensions, reinforcements, and surface finishes to match diverse trailer load and application needs.
